LION CLUB AWARD

Harry Henry Brantford has just received the plaque which was presented to him by Lion President Loren Stevenson for outstanding service in Lions.

WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP WRESTLING

Drayton Valley Rotarians are sponsoring the show of sports for wrestling fans in bringing World Heavyweight Champion Wrestler Kiler Kovalek to Drayton Valley for an action-packed wrestling card on the evening of Monday June 12th. The mammoth event will be held in Drayton Valley Recreation Centre.

Kovalek won the World Heavyweight Wrestling Championship by defeating Buddy Rogers in Chicago, last December, 1961.

Kovalek is a giant of a man, standing 6 feet, eight inches in height and weighing 265 pounds of superbly trained muscle. He has the strongest and biggest hands of anyone in the wrestling game today. His hands have made him noted for his famous "Clawfoot".

Challenger to Kovalek will be big Ray Osborne, Ray Ball.

from Jasper Place. He is no stranger to local fans, having defeated such well-known wrestlers as Al Miller, Al Korman, John Smith, who was a former light-weight champ. As well as Ray, another opponent will be featured on the card, the best deep kick artist in the game today, being able to jump from a standing position and kick six feet high with both feet. Ray and Bud were raised and went to school at Seba Beach.

Stu Hart will be on the card also. Stu is a scientific, tough plain-out wrestler. He is also not a stranger to man fans, not only in Drayton Valley, but also anywhere in the world as he has been wrestling in the big time for the past thirteen years. His opponent is Big Dave Bull, or the Husky Farmer, one of the toughest wrestlers in his class. In the ring today.

An added feature of the star-studded event will be a match between two judo stars. This match will be between a couple of the world's foremost judo experts, the one the R.C.A.P. champion and the other a former British Judo Champion. Both are holders of the Black Belt.

ORVIN COMBS IN DOMINIONS

The Pembina Boxing Club and Drayton Valley will be in the limelight scores Canada again this year. It was learned last week that Orvin Combs was selected as a member of the Alberta Boxing Team which will compete in the Canadian Amateur Boxing Championships in Toronto early in September. The event, which was held here in Drayton Valley in 1964, will be in conjunction with the Canadian National Exhibition this year.

Orvin is a younger brother of "O'Men Boy" Ruffa Combs has been one of the outstanding stars in the local club during the past three years. He has a fine record behind him, having won more championships than any other fighter in the local Green and Gold club. Combs has everything needed to be of championship calibre. He is a dangerous puncher, a better than average boxer, and is as tough as they come. One thing for sure win or lose Orvin Combs will make a creditable showing in Toronto come September. He will go with the Alberta Boxing Team to Drayton Valley.

C.B.C.'s traveling team of radio and T.V. personalities headed up by David Cuthbert, arrived in town on Sunday and this is their home-away-from-home for the time being. They are staying in the Drayton Valley Hotel and are rapidly getting acquainted with Drayton Valley folk.

The team consists of, in addition to Mr. Cuthbert, Alberta Mirror commentator, Peggy MacArthur, who with Jim Schumann, conducts interviews for the show, Jim and Peggy's interviews open the program at 10:30 each morning.

They have interviewed a number of local persons and in the remaining two days while they are here will interview many more. On Tuesday afternoon they were present at the Tea in the Elks Hall, which was sponsored by the Anglican W.A., with the money that was raised in the affair going toward the development of Oak-bill Boys Ranch, a project that is being sponsored by the Anglican Church as a whole group.

under the direction of the Reverend J. Ramsey Smart, who has had visualized some form of home for per-delinquent boys.

On Wednesday and Thursday Dick Socking who is now Farm Commentator for CBC will be on hand for the 11:30 broadcast. Dick was formerly District Agriculturist for this district and was stationed at Stony Plain, and so is quite well known to the rural population of this district as well as to many residents of Drayton Valley.

ALBERTA THE PROVINCE OF UNLIMITED OPPORTUNITIES

Sixty years ago, Grandma moved to Alberta. She travelled by ox cart with her parents and brother Fred from Boston and settled down in Edmonton. Because her brother had poor health, she Dr. had advised them to move to a healthier climate, so they came to Alberta. Her father was a skilled carpenter and set up his practice in Edmonton. Her mother managed the home and Grandma was a school teacher. Although they left friends and comfort behind them, there was much to compensate for these.

Great Grandma soon had a flourishing business and Great Grandma worked industriously on the little log house that they had built. As for Grandma, she was enjoying teaching immensely, although she taught all grades in a little one-room school house. She was used to teaching only one grade in Boston but the little school kind of teaching, far better, Fred's health improved rapidly, and the next summer they decided to visit the relatives who were ranching near Fort Macleod. Fred was impressed with the ranching that he decided to stay and work on the ranch. Grandma met a woman who was stationed at Fort Macleod and later, married him. Grandma and Grandma then moved to Calgary where Grandma continued teaching school.

The Alberta of today had changed from the Alberta of Grandma's day because of the development of agriculture, industries and resources. Large cities have grown up and ler. Forestry is carried on in the timber district lying between Edmonton and Peace River and west to the mountains. At Fort McMurray, an immense salt bed is being mined. Our swift mountain streams provide a great wealth of power. Although we have many power plants, the largest one in operation is the Ghost River project near Banff. Because of this great abundance of cheap power, many industries are moving to Alberta. Our farms are rapidly becoming electrified. Alberta is still exceedingly rich in fur bearing animals. Fox, marten, weasel, squirrel, lynx, muskrat, and beaver are still trapped in the north and brought to trading posts. Many fur farms raise fox and mink. Edmonton is the center of the fur business in Alberta.

Our province is well supplied with good transportation. There are thousands of miles of surfaced high ways, with construction work being carried on constantly to improve and build new roads. The C.N.R. and C.P.R. provide train service to most parts of the province and there is good bus service. Part of the Alameda Highway runs through Alberta. Three mountain passes: the Crofters, Kicking Horse and Yellowhead Pass, making the crossing of the mountains possible. Air flight is constantly being improved. There are several good airports in the larger cities and now, a new international airport is under construction near Lethbridge, linking Canada and the United States with Alaska and the Orient.

The opportunities for education are continually growing with new and improved schools. The University of Alberta, provides special training and has high standards. There are technical, agricultural and business schools, private colleges, experimental farms and Bible Schools and Seminaries. Library services are continuing to improve, providing books for rural districts as well as the cities.

The Banff School of Fine Arts is internationally known and students from all parts of the world come here for training.

In order to take advantage of what our province offers, steps have been taken by the government and private means to preserve the health of the people. A very unique hospitalization system has been set up which proves Hospital care for extremely reasonable reasons. "Public health laboratory services are now available to hospitals, local boards of health, health units, and physicians. Through two modern well equipped public health laboratories," intensive research is being conducted studying cancer and heart ailments. Hospitals are well equipped and many provide nurses training. Alberta has two fully equipped institutions, in Edmonton and Calgary, providing treatment and care for T.B.

Things are not quite so easy for our Spartans as their only hope of league competition would be entry into the Edmonton City League and prospects are anything but bright in this regard.

Ole Olson gave a report on the progress of baseball during the past week. The local Pee Wee League has been operating regularly in spite of inclement weather and is serving well over one hundred boys between the ages of eight and twelve years. The Legion has taken the local Spartans under their wing this year and a couple of pretty fair teams are ready for action when the weather improves and games can be arranged. The local Gordon Crane brought the meeting to date on the happening in the local boxing circles. He reported on the Golden Gloves and also stated that the Central Alberta has been chosen to represent Alberta in the 1965 Dominion Championships to be held in Toronto in September.

As an earlier meeting it was mentioned that there was a need for a golf instructor to acquaint our youngsters with the tricks of the trade. It was stated that Hank Shambaugh has agreed to coach any interested individuals in the game during the coming summer.

The matter of obtaining D.V.A. club jackets was duly discussed. It was decided that the D.V.A.A. should adopt the plan of obtaining a number of jackets of uniform color and design which will be sold at cost price to any individual participating in any phase of the Association's program. The original D.V.A.A. colors of Green and Gold were ousted in favor of Blue and White. It was also decided that a new crest should be struck which will be white.

There was some discussion on the idea of holding a dance in the D.V. Recreation Centre, however, the matter was tabled until the next meeting.

This campaign will take the form of only of Scripture Distribution, but will include Evangelistic Meetings, Bible Lectures, and Audio-Visual activities. All the Churches of the various denominations have promised to co-operate.

In the introduction to the Use Some Norvell, there are these words: "In a common search for that which united them, Christians of different confessions, Catholics and Protestants, have prepared this edition in which the theologians of both communions have collaborated. This issue bears witness to their love of the word of God and their reverence with their Christians should extend the utility desired by the Lord Jesus."

patients. Oliver and Fouda offer free for those people who are mentally ill. Public health units are scattered all over the province making possible free immunization and other services to the public.

There are unlimited opportunities to visit the beauties of nature in the parks of Alberta. Banff and Jasper are noted for their beauty in their crystal clear lakes, mountain-fed streams and towering peaks. Government camp sites are scattered throughout the province according to tourists as well as to hunting. Another attraction is the "Red Leader" near Drumheller, where fossils and bones of ancient animals that once roamed this country can be found. The Calgary Stampede is known world wide. Tourists and competitors come from all over the world to watch and participate in the activities. The annual Edmonton Exhibition rates high among Canadian fairs.

Times have surely changed since President's day. She came because of the opportunities our province offered her. Yet, with all the advances of the intervening years, science has only brought us to the threshold of exciting possibilities. Our farms with proper fertilization can feed the expanding population. The Athabasca tar sands are declared to be the world's largest deposits of oil, and even with increasing export of gas and oil, petroleum makes possible an almost endless line of important by-products. With proper conservation, the forests will continue to yield the perennial source of lumber and pulp.

I'm no authority or prophet, but who knows if the editor of the Metropolitan Free Press might not offer prizes for the best essay on "Alberta, the province of Unlimited Opportunity" sixty years from now?

Second prize winning essay written by Sandra Cady, Grade 10.

ALBERTA THE PROVINCE OF UNLIMITED OPPORTUNITIES

Alberta the province of unlimited opportunities is a statement which can be proven true in many aspects. Some such opportunities are those of education, sports, farming, petroleum, industries, mining, fishing and lumbering. In each of these fields there are a great number of positions which need to be filled.

In Alberta the majority of the population is classed as urban, and the movement from farming areas to urban areas is increasing. Movement of the prairie provinces of Canada, Alberta is rich in oil, and her broad acres raise wheat and cattle. Lumbering is also one of the important industries of Western Alberta. Wheat, wheat in the south and wheat far from the north grow well in Alberta's climate. Sugar beets are an important crop on the irrigated lands of southern Alberta. Cattle ranching, historic agricultural activity of the province is still actively pursued in the rich prairie lands of southern Alberta. Her petroleum output supplies much of Canada's needs. There is also a large coal processing plant at Coleman, near Cross's West Pass in the Rockies.

There are great opportunities for education in Alberta. These schools include private schools, public schools, universities, colleges, high schools, and public schools. The location of some of these schools are: University of Alberta, in Edmonton, with a southern branch in Calgary, Mount Royal College, in Calgary, St. Joseph's Catholic College, in St. Joseph, being a theological college of

The universities are centres of instruction in various subjects: law, medicine, theology and philosophy. A typical large university consists of an undergraduate college of liberal arts and sciences, a graduate school and instruction in the following fields: law foreign service, public administration, library science, business administration, physical education, speech, music, fine arts, architecture, engineering, agriculture, home economics, forestry, medicine, nursing, and dentistry.

Alberta thrives with a great number of growing industries. Some of these branches are: cattle ranching, dairy farming, grain growing, dry farming, forestry, fisheries, fur, and mining. By means of these various industries Alberta's population is supplied with work.

In all these are some three thousand manufacturing plants employing 30,000 people with an annual value of production of more than $6,000,000,000. Petroleum development has hastened industrialization considerably. Twelve oil refineries produce 885,000,000 gallons of petroleum annually and at Edmonton is located Canada's largest petrochemical plant.

In 1931 Alberta ranked fourth as mineral producing province. Alberta supplies approximately ninety-six per cent Canada's oil production. Alberta contains more than three quarters of Canada's oil reserves.

Approximately eight thousand persons are employed by the lumbering industry. The commercial fishing industry employs in 1951, 62,000 at the peak of the season.

Other minerals which are produced are clay, lime, mica, sand and gravel. Sulphur production from petroleum is increasing. Cement is produced at large plant at Enshaw and salt is produced at a salt plant in Lindbergh.

In the oil industry there is a great need for many positions to be filled. Some of these positions being: petroleum engineers, geologists, seismologists, mechanical engineers, non-destructive testers, battery operators, drillers, crew members, surveyors and many others. Oil companies need skilled workmen in these and many other departments. There is a great need for men such as: foremen, assistants, research workers, etc.

In Alberta there are many new oil regions opened up yearly. In 1951 two were opened. These were the Virginia Hill, Devonian formation northeast of Edmonton and the Missinippi formation along the foothills of the Canadian Rockies.

As there are many different types of crops and animals to be raised many types of farming. The word farming does not stand for a single occupation, but for a combination of occupations.

Alberta also has a great need for trained people to fill positions in the following fields: railways, airlines, and in the highway administration department. In Southern Alberta, Canadian Pacific Railway has a boarding point in Calgary and Canadian National Railway operates in the Northern part with Edmonton as centre.

Edmonton is on the main air route to the Orient, Alaska and on the transpolar route to Scandinavia.

In the year 1951 the government distributed annual resources to the citizens of the province who met certain educational qualifications.

The province is constantly supplying funds for public projects. Such projects include: airports, hospitals, parks, etc.

Drake Cabin Moved To Pioneer Village

Operator of one of Alberta's finest tourist and visitors' attractions, the Pioneer Village on Highway 16 west of Edmonton, L. Denard, looks over the log cabin at the site of the former post office of "Reverence", which was the name of the postoffice when this community first started. It was later changed to Drayton Valley and the Drake Cabin moved up on the hill to the present location of Drayton Valley. The "Drayton" came from a town in England and the "Valley" part from the fact that it formerly sat in the valley just west of town.

Overland bound. The first building in this area, the general store and the log cabin that was built by the Drake in 1909. They lived in it when it was first built, a little later it became the first post-office and store in the district and the Drake built another log cabin in which they lived. This building was built in the fall of 1909, after they had come to the district during that summer. Mrs. Drake says they lived in a tent during October and November while this first cabin was being built. They used open to pull in the logs for the construction of the cabin.

The cabin was loaded onto a McLeod's Oilfield Hauling Truck on its way to its permanent resting place in the Pioneer Village. Operator of the Pioneer Village Mr. Denard says the cabin will occupy a very prominent place in the Village. It was in remarkably good shape of preservation. A couple of logs were cut in this section near the window, but one was laying nearby and could be fitted in and the workmen at the Village will fashion another log to take the place of one that was gone. The cabin will be restored as it was originally some fifty three years ago.

The Drayton Valley Chamber of Commerce will probably have a bronze plaque labelled as part on the log building after it is removed and set up. The plaque will state where the log cabin was originally and will give a little of the history of Drayton Valley from the time the cabin was built to the present time. The cabin was mentioned over C.B.X.T. recently when the CBC television station had a program featuring Pioneer Village. The cabin was on the way in by McLeod's truck at the time and mention was made of the fact that it was coming in and was known as part of the Northwest Territories. Someday the Village will undoubtedly be listed on all tourist and visitors coming here. Alberta. The stock of old time exhibits is constantly being added to as word of the collection of early articles gets around, and people bring in the articles or call and say they have this stuff on hand.

New Rotary President

Mr. Syd Mitchell has served Rotary very well as president for the past year. He is seen at the close of his term, turning over the president's gavel to Howard Culbert, who will serve as president for the coming 1967-68 year. Howard was secretary in the past year. Stu Worthington will be the new secretary. Mr. Ed. McLaughlin resigned as treasurer for the group. In the last from Drayton Valley will appear the committee chairman.

The handing-over of the gavel was made at the last Rotary Dinner meeting, which was also "Ladies Night". Guest speaker for the evening was Recreational Director Mills Gormley who spoke on the subject "What is a Recreational Director".

Visitors at the dinner were the Bur, Macdonald, new members for the local United Church church, and Mrs. MacDonald and their two sons, Ian and Derek, in attendance University and work for the Journal between times.

Lions Rodeo

Drayton Valley's Annual Rodeo sponsored each year by the local Lions Club will be held this year on July 27 and 28th at Drake's Rodeo grounds. A feature of this year's Rodeo will be the opening of the event by the Hon. Patrick, Provincial Secretary for the Province of Alberta. With the Hon. Patrick will be his wife, Mrs. Patrick.

The Rotary Club will have charge of the Parade, which is slated to start at 11:00 on the first day of the Rodeo, Friday, July 27th. An added feature this year will be the coverage by C.F.C.W. Radio 190 of the Parade and other events of the Rodeo. The radio station representative will be here in connection with the numerous shoppers coming to the event which will be staged by Drayton Valley merchants in conjunction with C.F.C.W. The huge shoppers carnival will culminate with a "Pet O' Color" show, which will be on the last night of the six day event.
